Gifts of abundant grace

Why purchase a gift from the Chalice Gift Catalogue?

1. The gift catalogue is intentional

Gift catalogue items aren't random items jumbled into a list. They're chosen by our site directors, who tell us what their communities need most. No guesswork involved!

2. Giving is fun

Every year, parents and grandparents use the gift catalogue to help their children and grandchildren learn about charity by making a purchase in the young person's name. Bonus: Chalice sends a card with a photo of the chosen gift on it, so you have something tangible to give your loved one!

3. There's a gift for everyone

Whether it's a child in need of school books or a family hoping for extra food, the catalogue has it covered. There's also something for every child on your list - if a loved one enjoys sports, why not purchase sports equipment? For an animal lover, a goat or chicken never goes out of style!

Sponsorship and determination make Chansa's dreams come true

Chansa grew up near Chalice's Serenje site in Zambia. Her parents struggled to keep their six children in school, and her siblings were forced to drop out.

Chansa was determined to get a good education, and took on gardening jobs to help pay for school books. She threw herself into her academic work. She didn't let her circumstances determine her future.

Her life changed after she was chosen by a Chalice sponsor. She could concentrate on her academic work without worrying about where she would get the money for books.

Chansa completed her secondary studies and enrolled in nursing school. She's now a certified nurse, an achievement that helps her help the vulnerable in her community.

"In the village, my friends are encouraged by seeing my achievement. I am confident that children are admiring to become symbols of a bright future when given a chance," Chansa says.
